Proctor Diamonds
Our $25.00 Diamond Ring is Unequalled.
Not all diamonds are perfect—that's why we ask you to be careful.
Proctor diamonds are different from ordinary diamonds—they are better—better because each one is examined, and only the perfect ever enter our stock.
A Three-stone Diamond Ring at $50.00 Might Please You.
In order to save intermediate profits, we buy direct from the cutters in Amsterdam, which enables us to sell high-class diamonds at the price of the other kind. However, after all is said, the goods themselves furnish the proof, and it's your privilege to look—
We Would Like to Show You a Twin Diamond Ring at $100.
In fact we are enthusiastic about our DIAMONDS, and you are sure of a welcome here whether you purchase or not.
Our window to-day contains at least $40,000.00 worth of Diamonds from which to make a selection.

OBITUARY

Prof. S. Vernoy.
Prof. S. Vernoy died yesterday at his residence, 231 Jarvis street, after a brief illness from bronchial pneumonia. Prof. Vernoy came to Toronto in 1876 and established the Vernoy Electro-Medical Sanitarium on Jarvis street. He was a faithful member of Old St. Andrew's church. He leaves a widow and one son, the latter resident at Albany, N.Y. The remains will be taken to Ingersoll for burial.

BARBER MAY NOT RUN.
Is Considering the Matter, as His Health Has Been Poor.
Mr. John R. Barber, M.P.P. for Halton, has been strongly advised by his physician to drop out of politics, and Mr. Barber is considering whether he will be a candidate at the approaching elections or not. Mr. Barber's health, which has not been good for some time, is not improving.

WERE WE DIFFER WITH THE STATES

Outlook Refers to Questions Which May Become Troublesome Some Day.

WITHDRAWING THE FLEETS

Better to Have Powerful Squadron a Week Away Than Small One Near.

Canadian Associated Press.
London, Dec. 3.—The Outlook, speaking about the probability of the joint High Commission meeting again, says there need be no fear yet that Canada will do anything which will tend to injure the imperial bond, but the news may give some small satisfaction to those who are anxious to lose the trade of our oldest colony. Outlook, commenting on the recent speeches of Choate and Lansdowne, says the settlement of the Alaska dispute removed a very grave danger, since at any moment some trifling border incident might have brought about a catastrophe, but although this cloud is dispelled it would be too much to say that no possible points of difference remain. Hudson Bay, for instance, looms on the horizon, involving questions of American fishing rights and delicate problems of international law and the rapid extermination of fur seal in Behring Sea under the Paris award.

THE WEAK SPOT.
Yet another cause of resentment is that Americans consider, whether rightly or wrongly, that their friendship is more important to us than ours is to them. It does not escape them that Canada's southern frontier is the weak spot in our empire, and that we have much to lose where they have little. Such a situation is a standing temptation to an impulsive, self-confident people. To some extent, arbitration treaties counteract the temptation, but we should be living in a fool's paradise if we do not recognize that one branch of Congress have acquired a preponderance of power that is corrupt and short-sighted, and that it can control foreign affairs if it will, and they have means to yield to the temptation. Within ten years the United States will be second in strength to our's alone.

NOT SO DESPAIRING.
The Broad Arrow, on concentrating our naval forces, says the disappearance of warships from colonial waters will not move the colonial to agonized despair as the disappearance of the red coat did. The first colony to experience the effect of the new policy is Canada, for already the North Atlantic Squadron has been reduced in strength. This was inevitable, owing to the growth of the United States, with the increased mobility conferred on the navy by modern science. The defence of British interests in the Western Hemisphere can best be attained, not by the maintenance of a relatively small force in the North Atlantic, but by powerful fleets within a week's steam.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.
The Army and Navy Gazette says it is good to organize the great forces of Canada and Australia, but it would be particularly interesting to know what part they may be expected to play in the defence of India if war should break out, or in other possible theaters of hostilities.
The gross value of the estate of the fifth Marquis of Donegal is sworn at twenty-seven pounds, with a net personality of nothing. The Daily Mirror publishes a picture of the Marchioness and her infant, heading the picture "Marquis, Heir to Twenty-seven Pounds."

GIRL SUICIDES TO PROVE SLUR FAULT

Church Worker, Driven to Desperation by Slanders Swallows Poison.

Indianapolis, Dec. 3.—Driven to desperation by slanderous stories, Miss Burley McGowan, 16 years old, and prominent in church circles, chose death to prove their falsity. She committed suicide after listening to the report of a neighbor, who repeated the gossips' tales when confronted by the distracted girl last night. Before swallowing poison she left a note asking that an autopsy be held. This was done to-day and the girl's reputation was vindicated.

LEARNS ALL FROM FRIENDS
Miss McGowan has worked zealously in the church for the last two years and was regarded highly. Some weeks ago scandalous stories began to circulate among the congregation. They did not reach her ears until late last evening. Instantly she sought the home of a neighbor.
"Tell me everything," she implored of her friend. She was weeping bitterly and appeared on the verge of complete collapse. When she had heard all she left, seemingly calmer.

ENDS LIFE WITH POISON.
On her way home she stopped at a drug store and purchased a quantity of strychnine, which she swallowed just as she entered her home. She died in convulsions early to-day. Before leaving the drug store she had written the brief, pathetic note, asking that the autopsy be held to confound her accusers.
A love affair also is thought to have entered into the girl's determination to end her life. Dwelt upon by the church gossips, a young man of the congregation, who had been very attentive, suddenly ceased his visits to her home. It was through his action that Miss McGowan first had an intimation of the reports.

BELLEVILLE CASE GOES ON TO-DAY

November 1.—Vance to Shibley: "Am surprised you have not answered my letter."
Daniel Ross of Bancroft said he had delivered a package to Bremner, but did not know what it contained.
"Ballot-boxes," Mr. DuVernet informed him.
"Well, whatever they were, I got them at the station. If they were for Bremner, I took them to him."
Returning Officer Franklin of Frontenac told of another ballot-box, and in doing so referred to the ex-Chicago wrestler, Hawkey, a deputy officer.

TOOK A BOX HOME.
"On the Saturday after the election," Mr. Franklin related, "Hawkey handed in ten boxes. I found that a change had been made, a tin box having been substituted for a galvanized iron box. I took it to my home at Joyceville and kept it there till subpoenaed."
"Did Hawkey," Mr. DuVernet enquired, "make his proper declaration at the close of the poll?"
"I did not see the poll book. It was forwarded to Ottawa."
"The strange box looked like one that had been used in the municipal elections," testified Franklin.
P. Shortell, Franklin's election clerk, corroborated the returning officer's testimony.

AVERY'S PROTEST.
Emelzar Avery, M.P. for Frontenac, told how he protested to the returning officer against Hawkey, on "the ground that Hawkey was "an outsider."
"Though I have asked for it, I have received no return from Hawkey's poll. I had expected a majority of 40 or 50 there, and got seven."
Detective Parkinson of the Dominion police force told of finding nine bogus ballot-boxes in Loughboro Lake. R. Ruttan, John Woodrum, and Harry Woodruff assisted him.

DANGER IN MILK.
Raw Milk in Non-Sterilized Bottles is Dangerous.
Pasteurization of milk is similar to many other processes regarding which there is more or less mystery to those not familiar with it, which is in itself a comparatively simple process. It is simply a process of heating the milk to a temperature that will destroy any disease germs that might be contained therein, and again suddenly cooling to a temperature sufficiently low to prevent the germs returning again. The difficulties connected with the process lie in bringing about these results without injury to the milk, and performing the work in a most thorough and satisfactory manner. Pasteurized milk was first introduced into Toronto ten years ago by S. Price & Sons, the big dairy firm. The public soon became acquainted with its importance, and the result is that today about five thousand homes are supplied daily by this firm, with their "Original" pasteurized milk and cream, contained in sterilized bottles. Its success was looked upon with envy by one or two other dairies in the city, who failed to secure a similar pasteurization plant to that of S. Price & Sons, after an unsuccessful attempt to convince the public that pasteurization was a worthless process.

HYANNIS' BAD FIRE.
Thirteen Structures Burned at Loss of $150,000.
Hyannis, Mass., Dec. 3.—The worst fire in the history of this town broke out shortly after midnight in the store of W. D. Baker, and within three hours destroyed thirteen structures, including the Universalist Church. Capt. William F. Lewis, a retired master mariner, dropped dead of heart failure induced by the excitement and exhaustion attendant upon his efforts to save his residence from the flames. The property damage is estimated at $150,000. Most of this will be a complete loss to the owners, as the insurance rates in the town were so high as to be practically prohibitive.
The greater portion of the business district of the village was wiped out by the fire, which spread with frightful rapidity.

ADMITS THE THEFT.
Of the Wheel on Which He Rode to Hamilton.
Samuel Miller was the companion of Joseph O'Leary when the latter went to Hamilton on a wheel that is said to have been stolen. Miller confessed to the police magistrate this morning that he had stolen a bicycle from J. P. Hare. O'Leary is accused of stealing one from Walter Ros. When he appeared a few days ago he was remanded until Tuesday, and Miller will also be sentenced on that day.
